

Dr. Burcu Aydın graduated from Bilkent University as an Honor Student in 2003. She received her Master's and Doctorate degrees in Economics from the University of Southern California, USA, in 2005 and 2007.

She worked at the IMF, in Washington, D.C., during 2006-11, where she was officially awarded three times for her outstanding work.

Between 2012 and 2018, she served as the General Director of Revenue Policies Department and as the chief economic advisor of the Minister at the Ministry of Treasury and Finance in Turkey. She contributed to the Medium-Term Economic Plans, central government budgets, income and expenditure policies, and the conduct of international financial relations.

She lectured and conducted research in public finance at Bilkent University in 2019-22.

As of 2023, she has been working as the Director of the Economic and Structural Policies Center at the Economic Policy Research Foundation of Turkey (TEPAV).

She is the founder of educational technologies company, Hurra Education, and has been serving as a board member of various companies in Turkey.

Her work has been published in various papers, books, and columns. She is a commentator on Bloomberg HT TV and Ekotürk TV, and a writer in Turkish Economic Newspaper.

She is active in social matters. She is a member of the High Advisory Board of the Turkish Employers' Association of Construction Industries (INTES), a member of the General Assembly of Galatasaray Sports Club, and a member of the TOBB Women Entrepreneurs Board. She is also a member of ANGIKAD, Social Sciences Research Network, USC and Bilkent Alumni Associations.

She speaks English, Spanish and German.